Specialist immigration lawyers for business, sport & health

As you may be aware, John Atkins, Founder of John Atkins Ltd – your specialist immigration lawyer, recently passed away. John’s dedication, expertise, and compassionate approach for his clients’ immigration matters were hallmarks of his service to you, and he was greatly admired by his peers.

To ensure that you continue to receive the highest standard of legal support and that your case progresses without disruption, we have arranged for your files to be transferred to our team at Newfields. Newfields has been carefully selected to support John’s clients because of our shared commitment to personalised client care, excellence, meticulous attention to detail, and profound understanding of immigration law, mirroring the qualities John exemplified.

Newfields is a specialist in immigration law, with an award-winning reputation for supporting individuals, their families and businesses, the public sector as well as sportsmen and women across the world. We are also referred immigration cases by other law firms who do not share our level of expertise in immigration matters and we are honoured to support John’s clients at this difficult time.

We understand that this transition may raise questions and concerns. I founded Newfields with a similar mission to John’s – to provide outstanding, specialist immigration support for our clients, delivered with empathy and pace to remove the concerns and strains these processes can often create for individuals and their families. Immigration law is our sole focus.

Please be assured that we are committed to offering you:

A Seamless Transition:

The transfer of your files will be handled smoothly. Your case details, history, and current immigration status will be carefully communicated to our team at Newfields to ensure continuity.

No Cost Obligations for Consultations:

There will be no additional costs incurred by you due to this transition nor for discussions on any new immigration enquiries you may have. Our team are here to help you explore and define the best immigration route for you, your family or (for businesses), your employees. We pride ourselves in our proactive, meticulous approach to tackle the complexities of immigration law, to remove the concern and pressures of the process for you - all the while prioritising a personalised service with clear communication at all times.

A Personalised Service:

At Newfields, we, like John, are renowned for our client-centred approach, ensuring each case is treated with the utmost care and personal attention. We are committed to understanding your unique circumstances and exploring all possible immigration solutions and routes tailored to your needs.

Support and Availability:

Should you have any questions or need to discuss your case further, myself and my team at Newfields are available for a no cost or obligation consultation at your convenience. We can address any issues promptly and thoroughly.

Exceptional Client Care:

our legal team consists of seasoned immigration experts who are dedicated to providing the same level of support, expertise, and commitment you have come to expect. We will work tirelessly to alleviate any concerns and guide you through your immigration journey with confidence and reassurance.

Complete Cost Transparency:

If, following a consultation, we believe an application needs to be presented or work needs to be carried out, then we shall set out clearly all costs (Home Office fees and our own professional costs) in writing, to ensure a fully transparent service. Any work on our part will not begin until you understand our written fee quote, and you are comfortable with this.

We deeply value your trust and are committed to ensuring this transition is as seamless as possible, maintaining the high standards of service and care you deserve. Your satisfaction and success in your immigration journey remain our top priority.

Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or need further clarification. You can contact a member of our team at Newfields by email: info@newfieldslaw.com or by phone: 01392 984 934.

Thank you for your understanding and continued trust at this difficult time.

Sincerely,

Glyn Lloyd
